MAIDSTONE

Located 65km from London on the banks of the River Medway, the town of Maidstone, county-town of Kent in the United Kingdom, boasts a population of 138,959.

Easy to reach from Beauvais via the Channel Tunnel, this industrial and commercial hub also has a multitude of sports facilities and leisure centres, as well as historic sites, an unspoilt environment, and one of the world's most beautiful castles.

The name Maidstone probably means "the place (of stone) where maids meet". Maidstone and Beauvais became twin towns in 1961 and have built between them an indestructible bond of friendship.

For nearly 60 years, multiple exchanges have taken place in the context of sports, like table tennis, hiking and on the occasion of the Sports Festival, as well as school exchanges involving the Bossuet and Saint Esprit schools, not forgetting the cultural sector with exchanges between choirs, friendship clubs and so on.

TILlicouLTRY

The town of Crèvecœur-le-Grand has been twinned with the Scottish town of Tillicoultry since 2012. Tillicoultry is about sixty miles from Glasgow and Edinburgh in the county of Clackmannanshire. It is one of the so-called "Hillfoot" villages to be found at the foot of the picturesque Ochil Hills. It offers a warm welcome, an outlet shopping centre, and beautiful walks with great views and stunning scenery.
